Two Men Held in New Orleans Said to Be Desperate Criminals

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 27.—Arrests of two men and two women at a local hotel led today to recovery of $3,000 in currency believed to have been part of the $27,000 loot obtained December 11 by highwaymen who held up and robbed a messenger of the Drovers National bank of Kansas City and escaped after a gun battle.

There were two packages of $10 notes, each containing $1,000 and nine packages of $5 notes, each containing $500.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 27.—James Cavery and George Wilson, held in New Orleans in connection with the Drovers National bank holdup are not "desperate criminals," Harry Sutton, Tulsa detective bureau head, said today.

"They are just a pair of wet bottom toughs," he said. "Wilson was just a hanger-on who did not do much that was daring—just broke the law in petty ways. Cavery has been known to Kansas City police since he was 21 when he was sent to the Kansas reformatory."

and Italian premiers in Paris next Tuesday.

If the Germans continue their evasions, meanwhile looking obliquely against every allied move, the moment for the great decision will be at hand.

The French ambassador has been conferring with Premier Bonar Law during the past two days. Their negotiations related chiefly to Germany's refusal to provide 160,000 telegraph poles which had originally been promised by the Germans.

BERLIN, Dec. 27.—Grimous information that Great Britain may consent to occupation of the Ruhr basin by French troops was received in semi-official circles today. It is said that Italy already has agreed to withdraw objection to seizure of the Ruhr on condition that the British do likewise. It is known that the French have been exerting all possible pressure upon London to have the British consent to occupation of the German coal fields.

German officials declared they feared the worst if the French penetrate further into Germany, taking over the Ruhr basin and Rhineland. They predicted widespread strikes, armed clashes and general unrest.

APPRAISERS ARE NAMED

Value of Right of Way for Tulsa Water Pipeline to Be Fixed.

Appraisers were appointed by the district court at Fryer Tuesday to fix the price the city of Tulsa is to pay for pipeline right of way through 31 tracts of land between this city and the Spavinaw, according to members of the water board who attended the hearing.

There are parts of 24 tracts on or near the lake site that also must be appraised, and the same committee of appraisers will handle this task. These 65 tracts are all located in Mayes county, and are owned by persons who could not reach an agreement with the water board over damages their land would sustain by reason of the Spavinaw water project.

January 11 has been set as the day for final hearing of these condemnation suits. At that time the water board intends to show why Tulsa needs a considerable portion of land surrounding the lake site, to allow for floods and to maintain sanitary conditions around the lake shore.

"If the situation hadn't been so serious, I would have laughed at some of those tenants. Several didn't want to leave their rooms, and one or two returned after I had persuaded them out into the hallway. I brought them downstairs in the elevator, which was not damaged by the fire."

O. C. Simms, rental manager of the Robinson building, left several days ago for a visit in Temple, Texas. Bolander wired him as quickly as possible after the flames were extinguished. He expects Simms to return to Tulsa Thursday morning.

LADY LUCK DESERTED HIM

Negro Accused of Using Forged Order for Electric Light Bulbs.

William Dawson, negro, was riding his luck for all it was worth Wednesday and was scoring knockouts right and left, until he pulled a rabbit foot too far and landed in the city hoosegow, according to the story told at the police station.

Dawson, according to complaint sworn out, had a little scheme, which was not original, it worked. He would go into electric fixture stores and would exhibit an order for 12 100-watt frosted lights. The order bore the name of A. B. Stewart.

Among the stores duped by the forged orders were the Dodge Electric, Electric Supply, McKellam-Morse company and the Davis Electric company, according to the report made at police headquarters.
